Honors Courses – Spring Semester, 2011

ENGL 102H - CRN 20244. Honors Composition & Rhetoric II. Three credits. Heller. 11:00 a.m. – 12:15 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

POLS 201 – CRN 20810. Honors American National Government. Three credits. Manzanarez. 9:30 – 10:45 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday. **

* The Honors Seminar and Colloquium will highlight readings by Sandra Cisneros, Martín Espada, Christina García and others and include service learning as volunteers for the 17th Annual Border Book Festival April 8-10, in La Mesilla, New Mexico. Participants will not only study the literature and meet the authors, but will be exposed to the ins and outs of what it takes to put together a book festival of this magnitude and the courtesies that should always be extended to authors who participate. There will be an overnight stay in nearby Las Cruces, Friday night, April 8.

 A basic introduction to politics and a general consideration of American national government from the theoretical, structural, and functional points of view.
